Family relationships is one of the most important themes for discussion nowadays. There are two different points of view about it. So I would like to express my personal opinion about this topic. 33

There are two reasons why I guess that living in a big family is really wonderful and enjoyable. First, you can get some good advices from your elder relatives. These advices will help you in a future life because adults often have a lot of experience and wisdom. Second, you can always get help from your family in difficult situations. They will support you, help you ~~in~~ with making a right decision and take care of you. 90

But on the other hand, some people find disadvantages about living in a large family. For example, sometimes you could feel that you have not enough place for being alone or do hobbie. It is really may be uncomfortable. +

In my opinion it is fun to live in a big family. Members are like your true friends and with them you have ~~memerie~~ many amazing memories. +

So it is your choice to like huge family or not, but I strongly believe that there are no things better than loving big family.
